Dear Customer,

QUOTATION AND SUPPLY OF WINDOWS AND/OR DOORS

Thank you for the opportunity to present our quotation for the supply and installation (where applicable) of Affinity aluminium window and door products.

Affinity products are manufactured in accordance with Australian Standards and the standards set out in the National Construction Code of Australia. Each product is designed to perform within a particular range of environmental conditions, and incorrect selection can affect the performance of the product.

In assessing the appropriateness of the quoted products, we rely on the information provided by the Builder, in particular the "Wind Category Rating", the Site Assessment "Exposed or Non Exposed", and the "Bushfire Attack Level (BAL) Rating" if applicable, and other information provided on the plans about building design.

If you have any specific requirements (including by reason of the geographic location of your building), we must be informed of those requirements in writing.

If any information provided regarding the "Wind Category Rating", the "Site Assessment", the "Bushfire Attack Level", relevant aspects of the building design, or the location of the building that may influence exposure to unusual weather condition is incorrect or incomplete, or you have not informed us of any such matters, Affinity will not be liable for any failure of the product to perform which arises from any resulting incorrect selection of product.

This will not, however, affect your statutory warranties in respect of matters not related to the incorrect selection.

If you have any doubts as to the accuracy or completeness of the information provided to Affinity, you must ensure that Affinity is provided with full, correct information (and the opportunity to revise any recommendations) prior to accepting this quotation.

If you have any reason to believe that your windows or doors will be subject to unusual exposure to the elements, please contact your engineer or contact us to discuss the performance of the available Affinity window and door products.

Your sincerely

KEN COURTNEY
